HUMANE STUDIES FELLOWSHIPS UP TO $15,000 FOR LIBERTY-ADVANCING RESEARCH

Ideal candidates will be current or prospective full-time graduate students conducting research connected to the principles, practices, and institutions integral to a free society. Winners will evidence intention to advance liberty through careers in the academy. Students from all disciplines are eligible to apply, with preference given to applicants in the humanities.

Select winners will have the opportunity to present their research at the annual Humane Studies Research Colloquium. HSF alumni become eligible for invitation-only programs, such as co-sponsored Liberty Fund events and career development seminars. Previous winners hail from a range of disciplines: economics, philosophy, history, sociology, and more.

PAST RESEARCH TOPICS INCLUDE:

- Hayekian critique of distributive justice
- The relationship between feminism and the Scottish enlightenment
- Spontaneous order and individualist approach to sociology
- Environmental ethics
- The role of intermediary institutions in a free society
